Professional Experience

Cal joined Cushman and Wakefield after a successful career in the oil and gas sector as owner of a drilling fluids service company. The same approachable personality that gained him success in that sector has made him popular with his clients in the real estate world. His determination and commitment to finalizing a deal has been a large part of his success to date. Cal grew up in south Edmonton and is married with 3 children. He enjoys playing hockey, golf and hanging out with his two grandkids.
